

Commercial and Industrial Applications

Intermatic has everything contractors, maintenance personnel and plant or facility managers need to keep their factories, centers and businesses running at their peak.

Intermatic Commercial and Industrial Applications

- Interior and exterior lighting control
- Parking lot lighting control
- Mechanical time switches
- Electronic time switches
- Service entrance and panelboard surge protection
- Point-of-use surge protection
- Exterior receptacle protection
- Landscape lighting

Intermatic has a full line of commercial and industrial products needed to reduce electricity and labor costs and decrease power quality problems. Small investments in Intermatic energy controls and surge protection can:

- Increase energy savings
- Increase up-time
- Increase productivity
- Increase data retention

Whether it's part of a manufacturing, distribution or office environment, Intermatic offers a broad line of commercially related products for:

- High amperage/voltage machinery
- Heavy duty pumps
- Motors
- Variable frequency drives
- HVAC systems

In addition to a broad range of products, Intermatic provides complete bid specifications and wiring diagrams for every model and each product is backed up by the industry's best sales support and technical assistance team.

Z-WAVE™ For more than a century, Intermatic has been a premier supplier of commercial and industrial products and has developed a reputation for providing its customers with innovative products that far exceed their expectations. The new InTouch Wireless Controls™ line of home controls will serve as the primary link to the Intermatic System. Brought to life with Z-Wave™ technology, InTouch Wireless Controls™ will help our customers grow their business within the booming home controls industry and will help home and business owners achieve higher levels of convenience, security and safety.